FOREWORD

The Secondary School Classification Directory for 1927-28 is presented herewith.

There is ample evidence in the reports coming to the Department to indicate that Pennsylvania secondary schools are forging ahead. Local communities are meeting the demands made by increased enrollment by providing more adequate housing facilities; school organization is being improved by the establishment of joint schools large enough to offer a more comprehensive program; unsatisfactory types of school organization are being eliminated; school systems are reorganizing on the junior-senior high school basis; the standard of preparation for secondary school teachers has steadily increased; salaries are better; art, music, health, homemaking, agriculture, and industrial arts are receiving more attention; through the social activity program, the secondary school is developing an active program of junior citizenship; curriculums and courses of study are receiving the serious attention of principals, and teachers; there is an increased interest on the part of teachers in "making sure that pupils learn"; guidance—educational, vocational, social, moral,—is coming to be recognized as one of the most important functions of the secondary school;—these are indeed signs of progress.

But progress in secondary education, as in other fields of cooperative state and local endeavor, depends upon a thorough understanding of standards to be maintained and goals to be achieved. It depends upon the full cooperation of state and local authorities in the interest of the youth of the Commonwealth. The Department of Public Instruction takes this opportunity to express its appreciation for the cooperative spirit which is being shown by district and county superintendents, principals, teachers, and boards of education, in the interest of secondary education.

This report was prepared by W. H. Bristow, Assistant Director of Secondary Education under the general supervision of Deputy Superintendent James N. Rule, Director of Secondary Education.

JOHN A. H. KEITH,

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

PART I

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE CLASSIFICATION OF SECONDARY SCHOOLS

I. REQUIREMENTS OF THE SCHOOL CODE.

Section 2904 of the School Code provides that the Department of Public Instruction shall have power "to classify the high schools of the State upon the basis of the reports of the directors and the State inspectors of high schools, in compliance with the provisions of the school laws."

Section 1701 outlines the following general provisions for the classification of secondary schools:

A. A school year of at least 180 days.

B. Types of high schools and minimum number of teachers:

1. Four Year High School (years 9-12) minimum number of teachers, three.
2. Three Year High School (years 9-11) minimum number of teachers, two.
3. Two Year High School (years 9-10) minimum number of teachers, one.
4. Junior High School (years 7-8-9 or 7-8-9-10) minimum number of teachers, four, except in small rural communities where enrollment is small, a minimum of two or three teachers may be approved if part-time teachers are also available for special subjects.
5. Junior-Senior High School (years 7-12) minimum number of teachers, five.

C. All high schools are required to conform to the regulations established by the Department of Public Instruction.

II. ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW HIGH SCHOOL OR ADDITION OF YEAR TO PROGRAM OF STUDIES.

The approval of the Department of Public Instruction and the county superintendent is required previous to the establishment of a new high school or the addition of a year of work to the program of a high school already in operation in a fourth class district.

III. REGULATIONS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

A. Basis for Determining Classification.

As provided for in Section 1701, the following regulations have been formulated by the Department of Public Instruction for classification of secondary schools. Approval of a plan of organization or program of studies does not automatically classify a school. Classification of a new school or reclassification of an established school on a higher rating is given after the school has been in successful operation on the new basis for the major portion of a year and upon evidence that standards are being met as shown by:

1. Reports from local school authorities and the recommendation of the responsible superintendent of schools.
2. Report of visit by representative of the Department of Public Instruction.

Superintendents desiring to have the classification of any schools, under their respective jurisdictions, reviewed for the purpose of changing the current classification should send a list of such schools annually to the Department not later than November 15th.

B. Standards for Classification.

1. Building.

For a Four Year High School at least three rooms adapted for assembly, library, and class purposes with one room equipped for science laboratory work, are necessary.

A Three Year High School requires at least two rooms adapted for library, laboratory, assembly and class room purposes.

A Two Year High School requires at least two rooms adapted for library, laboratory, and class room purposes.

A Junior High School building requires facilities for the various phases of the junior high school program. This includes class rooms, library, laboratory, health and practical arts rooms.

The Junior-Senior High School requires the facilities of both a Senior High School and a Junior High School.

The location and construction of the building, the decoration of the building, and the up-keep of building and grounds, the lighting, heating, and ventilation of the school rooms, the condition of lavatories and closets, water supply, furniture, apparatus, and the methods of cleaning are such as to secure hygienic conditions for both teachers and pupils.

2. Equipment and supplies.

a. Science Laboratory.

Adequate laboratory furniture and apparatus are to be supplied for all secondary schools. The type and amount of equipment will depend upon the science program of the school (See Science Equipment Lists). Proper storage space is required for apparatus and supplies.

b. Library.

(1) For a Four Year High School the initial basic collection includes at least 300 to 400 well-selected volumes; for a Three Year High School 250 to 300 volumes; for a Two Year High School 200 volumes; for a Junior High School 300 volumes; for a Junior-Senior High School 500 volumes. (See Library Manual and Reference List.)

(2) When the library is not housed in a separate library room, proper shelving should be supplied in a class room or the study hall. Organization of the library for effective use is essential. It is also necessary to make provision for the growth of the library. The yearly budget should provide an appropriation for this work.

(3) Sufficient number of periodicals to meet the class needs of the school forms a part of the library equipment.

c. Sufficient texts, class and outside reading material, and adequate supplies to carry on effectively the work of instruction are to be provided.

3. Program of Studies and Plan of Organization.

The program of studies and plan of organization must conform to the standards of the Department of Public Instruction for the type of school operated and must be approved by the responsible superintendent of schools.

4. Requirements for Graduation.*

A classified Four Year High School requires for graduation the completion of a four year secondary school course covering not fewer than sixteen units. Of the sixteen units, three units of English, two of social science, including American

*See statement on page 9 for state requirements for admission to Professional Schools and other higher institutions.

History or Problems of Democracy, one of science in addition to general science, one unit of mathematics, should be required of all pupils graduating. Graduation from a Senior High School should be based upon the successful completion of a junior high school program of studies and twelve units of work in approved subjects in grades ten, eleven, and twelve. Music, one period, physical education, two periods, and health education, one period each week, should be required of all pupils throughout the secondary school course.

A unit represents the work done in a given subject in a standard school year requiring approximately one-fourth of the student's time and aggregating not fewer than 120 hours of prepared class room work. A standard school year shall consist of not fewer than 180 days. Two hours of shop or laboratory work are considered equivalent to one hour of prepared work.

Exclusive of time in changing classes the minimum length of recitation periods is forty minutes. A longer period is recommended in order to provide more adequately for directed learning.

5. Methods of Instruction, Supervision, Morale.

Methods of instruction, provision for school supervision, pupil attitude, professional activity of teachers, and general morale of school must be such as are conducive to satisfactory pupil achievement.

6. Teacher Preparation and Certification.

College graduation should be the standard of preparation for all secondary school teachers. The majority of teachers in a classified Senior or Four Year High School are required to be holders of college certificates. Schools wishing to qualify for Senior or Four Year High School classification should require teachers already in service who do not have this standard of certification to continue their preparation to the college level. The School Code requires that all teachers in secondary schools be properly certified in the specific subjects which they teach.

7. Teaching Load.

Pupil teacher ratio, number of classes taught daily by teachers, and the number of students in each class must be such as to make effective work possible. The standard should be: Pupil-teacher ratio on basis of average daily attendance, not greater than 30; number of classes taught by teachers, six daily in small schools, five in larger schools; not more than 35 pupils in any class (30 recommended as standard); and the number of pupil hours per teacher not more than 150 per day.

8. Pupil Load.

The usual pupil load should not exceed twenty periods of prepared recitation work weekly, exclusive of health, music, and activities. Only pupils ranking well above the average should be permitted to carry a program requiring more than this standard.

9. Records.

Accurate and complete records of attendance, scholarship, and school organization, should be kept in such form as to be conveniently used and safely preserved.

STATE REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION TO PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS AND OTHER HIGHER INSTITUTIONS

The Pre-Professional Credentials Bureau of the Department of Public Instruction evaluates credentials and issues certificates for admission to professional schools and also to other institutions.

One certificate for four years of high school preparation, or its equivalent, is issued to those who have completed sixteen units in an approved four year high school or secondary school or by examination or by combined credits earned by both of these methods. The term "count" is used only with reference to the requirements for equivalent high school credits. Eighteen counts are considered the equivalent of one year of work, four full years of work being the equivalent of 72 counts.

(See publications of the Pre-Professional Credentials Bureau for information concerning pre-professional examinations and credit in terms of counts for each subject.)

Candidates for these certificates must have credit for eight (8) units or their equivalent to the extent of 34 counts in the following subjects: four years of English; one year of Mathematics (General Mathematics, Algebra, or Geometry); one year of a laboratory science above General Science (Biology, or Physics or Chemistry); two years of a social science including American History or Problems of Democracy; and sufficient additional units in approved subjects to make a total of 16 units or their equivalent of 72 counts. Of the additional eight (8) units, six (6) units shall be selected from approved subjects in the fields of Mathematics, History and Social Studies, Science or Foreign Languages. The two remaining units may be selected from approved laboratory courses in the field of Commercial Studies, Industrial Arts, Home Economics, Music, Art, or from the fields listed above. If work in Commercial Studies, Industrial Arts, Home Economics, Music or Art is offered for credit, not less than a half unit of work in an approved course in a given field, estimated on the laboratory basis, will be accepted.

The attention of superintendents and principals is called to these requirements inasmuch as pupils desiring admission to professional schools, or other institutions for which the Credentials Bureau issues certificates, are often unable to secure such admission due to the fact that the curriculum pursued by the student was not arranged to comply with the foregoing admission requirements.

Table I indicates certain trends in the development of school organization which may be summarized as follows:

1. An increasing number of public secondary schools are meeting the standards for Four Year or Senior High School classification. In 1925-26, 634 public secondary schools were classified as Four Year and Senior High Schools; in 1926-27 schools meriting this classification numbered 700; a net increase of 66. For 1927-28, 612 schools were classified as Four Year High Schools and 131 as Senior or Junior-Senior High Schools, making a total of 743 or an increase of 43 over the number in 1926-27. This growth is particularly important because of the fact that a large percent of schools increasing their classification are located in rural or small urban sections. Thousands of boys and girls living in rural and small urban sections now have, for the first time, the opportunity of attending fully classified secondary schools.
2. The number of classified Three Year High Schools decreased from 197 in 1925-26 to 158 in 1926-27, and 136 in 1927-28. Schools classified as Two Year High Schools decreased from 164 in 1925-26 to 137 in 1926-27 and to 120 in 1927-28. The decrease in Three Year High Schools is due to two tendencies:
 - a. Many three year high schools have raised their standards so that they have been reclassified as four year high schools.
 - b. The three year high school is becoming recognized as a transitional type of secondary school organization. Wherever additional facilities are available in complete secondary schools elsewhere, there is a tendency on the part of boards of directors to reduce the program of studies of these schools to two years, reorganize the school system with a three or four year junior high school, and send pupils to centralized senior high schools for the work of grades 10-11-12 or 11-12.

3. There has been a constant increase in the number of districts maintaining junior high schools. Junior high schools were first included in the regular classification list for the school year 1924-25. Ninety-two schools were listed that year as classified junior high schools. In 1925-26, 136 were operating with approved junior high school units. In 1926-27, 162 secondary schools had approved junior high school organizations, either as separate organizations or as part of a junior-senior organization. This is a net increase of 26 schools over the number operating in 1925-26. The number for 1927-28 was 211, or an increase of 53 over the previous year.
4. There has also been a marked increase in the number of schools qualifying as junior-senior high schools. Twenty-eight schools were classified as junior-senior high schools in 1924-25; 50 in 1925-26; 70 in 1926-27; and in 1927-28, 98 schools were given this rating.
5. The number of approved rural community vocational schools increased from 45 in 1926-27, to 51 in 1927-28.

1926-1927	242,629	38,584	16
1927-1928	257,493	38,881	15

* Grades 9-12 are used because this constitutes the years for which tuition is paid in districts organized with eight year elementary schools.

The enrollment of non-resident pupils has increased rapidly. During the past year 38,881 boys and girls resided in districts without high schools and attended high schools in neighboring districts. This non-resident group now comprises 15 per cent. of the total enrollment. There are as yet large areas in Pennsylvania where even meager secondary school opportunity is not offered. This condition, however, is fast disappearing as transportation facilities are improved.

* Enrollment as of November 1.

There has been a marked increase in the number of pupils enrolled in schools organized on the 6-6, 6-3 and 6-3-3 bases. This increase is shown in table III which gives the enrollment in each type of organization for 1925-26, 1926-27 and 1927-28. In 1925-26, 40.72 per cent. of the total secondary school enrollment was in schools organized on the junior-senior high school basis. In 1926-27, 45.08 per cent. were in such schools, and in 1927-28, 51.17 per cent. of the secondary school enrollment was in reorganized schools.

Total -----	1173	323	27.53	850	72.72

Table VI indicates, in some measure, the spread of the junior high school movement. Reorganization on the junior high school basis has progressed by three distinct stages:

1. Reorganization in first and second class cities, where in general the separate junior and senior high school is favored.
2. Reorganization in third class cities, and in large fourth class districts. Here a modified type of 6-3-3 organization has existed.
3. Reorganization in smaller fourth class districts, and in some third class districts. In these districts three and four year junior high schools and six year high schools have been developed.

Of the 43 secondary schools located in first class districts 26 or 60.46 per cent. are organized on the 6-6 or 6-3-3 basis and 17 or 39.54 per cent. on the 8-4 basis. Both Pittsburgh and Philadelphia are, however, rapidly housing all pupils in grades 7-8-9 in junior high schools.

Of the 61 secondary schools in second class districts, 14.76 per cent. are operating on the 8-4 plan, and 85.24 per cent. are organized on the 6-6 basis; 60.10 per cent. of the 218 schools in third class districts are on the 8-4 plan, and 39.90 per cent. on the 6-6 plan; of the 831 schools in fourth class districts, 693 or 81.44 per cent. were on the 8-4 plan, and 18.56 per cent. on the 6-6 plan.

Total -----	96622	59243	61.31	37379	38.69

The number of ninth year pupils in 6-6 and 8-4 organizations is a further index to the extent of reorganization in the various class districts. According to table VII, 43.41 per cent. of the ninth year pupils in first class districts are in junior high schools; 75.26 per cent. in second class; 33.40 per cent. in third class; and 23.70 per cent. in fourth class districts. In all districts in the State 37,379 or 38.69 per cent. of ninth year pupils are in reorganized schools.

Total -----	342938	167445	48.82	175493	51.18

Table VIII shows the number and per cent. of pupils in 8-4 and 6-6 organizations by class of district. In first class districts 52.18 per cent. of the secondary school enrollment is in 6-6 organization, 82.79 per cent. in second class districts; 47.47 per cent. in third class districts; and 54.42 per cent. of the total secondary school enrollment in fourth class districts is in such organizations.

Of the 342,938 pupils enrolled in secondary schools, 175,493 or 51.18 per cent. are in reorganized school systems.

Table IX gives a distribution of Pennsylvania secondary schools according to size for the school years 1925 to 1928. The percentage of high schools in each enrollment group for the United States for the year 1925-26 is also given. This table indicates that the size of Pennsylvania high schools has increased during the last three years. Whereas 52.61 per cent. of Pennsylvania high schools had an enrollment of 100 or less in 1924-25; 49.65 per cent. were in this class in 1925-26 and 48.13 in 1926-27. In 1926 60.58 per cent. of the high schools in the United States had an enrollment of 100 or less.

Table XI gives a distribution of 35,974 pupils completing senior or four year high schools during the school year 1926-27. Forty-four and five-tenths per cent. have completed educational careers as follows: Post Graduate .1; Higher Grades of High School .9; College or University 24.4; Normal School 10.1; other Higher Institutions 2.4; Schools for Nurses .4; Commercial Schools 3.6. Two and eight-tenths per cent. are reported as teaching, 18.6 per cent. in Store and Office; 1.4 per cent. in Agriculture; 6.4 per cent. in Factory and Trades; 7.9 per cent. in other employment; 8.5 per cent. remaining at home; and 8.9 per cent. unaccounted for. Sixteen thousand one hundred and forty-four or 44.1 per cent. of those graduating were boys, and 19,830 or 55.9 per cent. were girls.

Table XII gives the number of pupils completing the courses of Two and Three Year High Schools in 1926-27. It will be noted from this table that 51.1 per cent. of those completing three year high schools, and 64.53 per cent. of those completing two year high schools go on to a higher grade of high school.

Thirty-five thousand and six pupils were graduated from June 1928, class of the 794 Four Year, Senior and Junior-Senior Public High School and Rural Community Vocational Schools in Pennsylvania. Of this number 17,832 or 31 per cent. completed the academic curriculum; 8,482 or 24 per cent. completed the general curriculum; 6,933 or 20 per cent. completed the commercial curriculum; and 1,759 or 5 per cent. completed vocational curriculums, including vocational agriculture and vocational home economics.

The number of secondary school teachers has increased proportionately with the increase in enrollment. The total number of teachers employed in secondary schools for the year 1926-27 including full-time and part-time teachers was 13,694, an increase of 930 teachers over the preceding year. For 1927-28 there were 14,384 secondary school teachers, an increase over 1926-27 of 690. The increase in the number of teachers for the past twenty-eight years is shown by the above table.
